company's online store offers a wide range of original products manufactured in the United States and Europe.

Detector Power, with its advanced range of products, has been instrumental in introducing a high degree of innovation in the metal detector industry. The company is committed to making easy the generally laborious and time-consuming task of finding the treasure, relics, coins or jewelry that people always dream of unearthing.

The metal detectors they stock and sell rank among the premium brands in the United States and Europe. Over the years, Detector Power has stitched up strong alliances and nurtured partnerships with the leading detector manufacturers from across the globe. They provide their clients with the best quality products and consistently high performance.

Detector Power provides detectors for all types of detecting projects and situations. These include treasure detectors, security detectors, long-distance locators, underwater and hobby detectors and more.

The company executives recently undertook an important tour of Europe in June to personally verify the quality sensors used by European detector manufacturers. Their personnel also received hands-on training on the products.

Some important commercial agreements were finalized with the renowned German brand OKM during this tour according to Luis Valencia, Detector Power's CEO. According to the terms of the agreement, the company has now become the official distributors for OKM in the United States and Latin America. Also, in Germany, they closed the deal to have exclusive resource and distribution of the premium and popular Tero Vido brand in the USA.

Also, Minelab, the world leader in detection equipment, gave Detector Power an official distribution agreement for the United States of America territory. They have also entered in agreement with popular Turkish brands such as Ger Detect, MWE, and are the first ones to guarantee the distribution of the Ajax Detection brand for America and LATAM.

These brands will help add more power to the catalog of the company and make them a force to reckon within the US and the rest of America.

About Detector Power:

Detector Power is one of the top-rated and highly reputed organizations, specializing in providing the best types of detectors. They offer one of the widest ranges of metal detectors in the United States and Canada. With over 10 years of experience in the industry, Detector Power is the undisputed leader in this niche in the US and Canada.
